IB CONTINUUM ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Note for Parents

Dear Parents,

At Shenzhen Elite International Academy, our school policies are rooted in the IB philosophies, standards and practices. We strive to reflect the varied aspects of the IB learner profile and the IB mission in every one of our policies.

Our policies have been developed through discussions with teachers, parents and students to determine both content and layout. These are the policies mandated by the IB:

1. Admissions
2. Inclusion
3. Language
4. Assessment
5. Academic Integrity

Our school is a diverse global community and this is a source of pride for our school. We intentionally include and appreciate students of all identities, social situations, learning abilities and language backgrounds. By enrolling your child at our school, you are agreeing to respect and promote the diversity of our student community. Our school policies are intended to embrace and encourage our diversity.

In each of our policy documents, you will find the philosophy driving the policy, your child's rights and community responsibilities, and a description of how each policy upholds the IB learner profile. Additionally, we have included in the appendices the procedures and processes associated with each policy.

We look forward to working at home and at school to ensure that our students receive a quality education that meets the high standards of the International Baccalaureate. Through our partnership, our students will know their right to this education and also appreciate that they have a responsibility to enable the rights of others.

Thank you, in advance, for reading these policies thoroughly.

Warmest regards,

Xu Xiaolu

Risk-Takers We always complete our tasks ethically, with the understanding that we might not always be correct.

Knowledgeable We know and use good practices such as referencing for our written tasks, in order to enact academic integrity.

Connections to other IB Policies

Academic Integrity and Language

The SEIA Academic Honesty document includes clear definitions, practices and consequences of academic dishonesty. Through their language learning, students are expected to be principled learners in furthering their language development.

Though academic dishonesty is defined and explained in the Academic Honesty document, it may look different in language classes and in the use of English or other languages provided at SEIA.

At SEIA, the following practices are considered dishonest with regards to language learning:

- If a student claims ownership of another student's, group's or pair's work
- If a student uses any online translation tools or websites to translate a phrase or text, whether it be from their own text in their home language or from any other published source, unless it is approved by the teacher
- During reading comprehension assessments, if the student translates the original text to their own home language to demonstrate understanding and comprehension in English or the target language
- If the student receives support from another student, parent, teacher or tutor without the approval of the teacher
- During the writing assessments in the target languages offered at ISH, if the student writes the text in their own language and claims to express it as their own writing

Academic Integrity and Assessment

At SEIA, we strive to develop in students the skills needed to demonstrate integrity when completing assessments. Students are explicitly taught to be principled and honest about their work while appreciating and formally acknowledging the work of others. We encourage teachers to design assessments that lead students to produce original and authentic work.

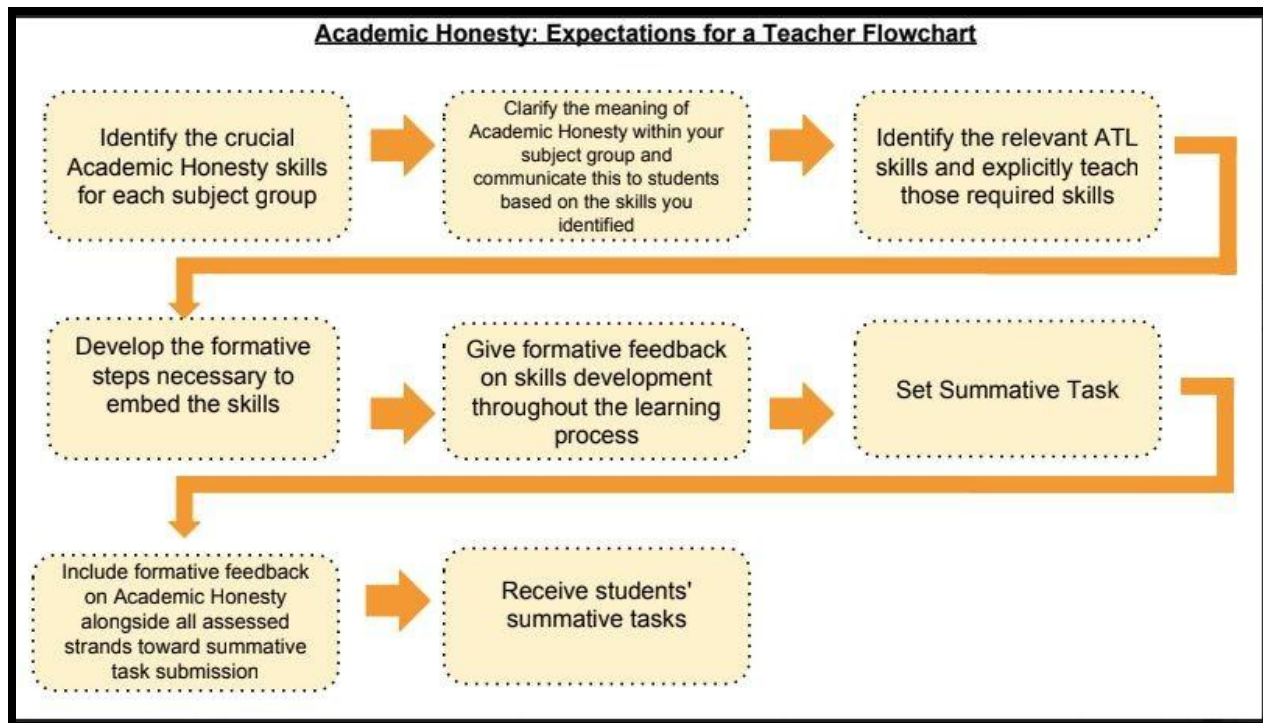

Academic Integrity and Inclusion

At Elite, we believe that students and teachers should act with integrity and academic honesty at all times. All students are provided with detailed guidance in developing the skills necessary to uphold academic honesty standards. Subject teachers are responsible for defining and instilling academic honesty skills within their subject group and the school librarian organises seminars on related topics (plagiarism, copyrights, etc.).

Academic Integrity and Admissions

If students cannot come into school to take entrance exams, a representative from the previous school will invigilate on our behalf. Parents provide the contact details for the representative. In cases where we cannot have a school contact, parents provide contact to representatives in business and organizations who invigilate the test.

Academic Misconduct

Plagiarism

Plagiarizing occurs when you use someone else's words, ideas, or images as your own. Merriam-Webster defines plagiarism as "literary theft" because you are taking something without crediting the person who created it. Although we may understand the concept of plagiarism, it is important to distinguish its various forms:

- Direct Plagiarism: Direct Plagiarism is when someone copies an individual's writing word-for-word without quotation marks and a citation. This can also happen across languages, such as directly translating a part of an article from the home language to English.
- Self-Plagiarism: Self-Plagiarism occurs when someone reuses all or a part of their own work without permission from all the previously involved teachers. For example, this could occur if a student were to use the same paragraph in a written Internal Assessment (IA) and in his or her Extended Essay (EE).
- Mosaic Plagiarism (Paraphrasing): Probably the most common form of plagiarism, Mosaic plagiarism, also known as paraphrasing, occurs when someone copies phrases from a source without using quotation marks, or finds synonyms for the author's language while keeping to the same general structure and meaning of the original. Mosaic paraphrasing can also occur if someone blends together different sources into one sentence or paragraph without citing all of them.
- Accidental Plagiarism: Accidental plagiarism occurs when someone forgets, overlooks, or is unaware that he or she should cite their sources. To avoid accidental plagiarism, the writer should keep track of the sources used during research, seek help when unsure about citing, and remember to edit work with focus on correctly formatted citations.

Collusion

Collusion occurs when someone agrees to let someone else copy work, or when someone actually does the work for someone else. Although it is the first person's original work, he or she is knowingly participating in academic misconduct and implicated in the act.

Duplication of Work

Similar to self-plagiarism, duplication of work occurs when someone uses the same piece of work to fulfill different aspects of the Diploma program. For example: Using a previously submitted literature essay for your Extended Essay.

Misconduct During Exams

Misconduct during exams occurs when someone knowingly gains an unfair advantage during the testing period. For example, misconduct includes taking unauthorized materials into the exam room, communicating with someone about the exam during the exam, or disrupting the exam. Misconduct also includes communicating about the contents of the exam with someone who has yet to take the exam or vice versa.

Academic Honesty Intervention

Students are introduced to the academic honesty policy during the DP retreat in the beginning of the program. Afterwards they are required to sign an academic honesty form. Throughout the year there are sessions where the librarian reinforces the importance of academic honesty. This is also reinforced by every teacher in every subject. Therefore, we do not consider any form of academic misconduct as unintentional.

If the work of the student has evidence of accidental plagiarism as indicated above, then:

1. A meeting between the student and teacher is arranged.
2. The student is given the opportunity to submit a new task. If not submitted, it earns a zero.
3. An incident report is written by the teacher and is shared with the advisory teacher and coordinator.

If a student has more than 3 incidents in a given year their case will be forwarded to the academic panel (consisting of relevant Homeroom teacher, teacher, Coordinator and principal) and can/will result in suspension from school.

If the work of the student has evidence of academic misconduct in form of direct plagiarism, self-plagiarism, mosaic plagiarism, collusion, duplication of work then:

1. A meeting between the student and teacher is arranged.
2. Students' work earns a zero.
3. An incident report is written by the teacher and is shared with the advisory teacher and coordinator

Their case will be forwarded to the academic panel (consisting of relevant homeroom teacher, teacher, Coordinator and principal) and can/will result in suspension from school.

Cycle of Review

Following a full review by teachers, students, parents, the Pedagogical Leadership Team and the Board of the school, this policy has been published in February 2023 and applies from September 2023 - 2024.

Policies will be reviewed and updated during the January curriculum day each year.
